The diagram illustrates a web page layout. At the top is a header bar divided into four sections: 'Logo', 'Menu', a dropdown arrow (▼), and 'Logout'. Below the header is the main content area, which contains a thick black horizontal bar, a square with an 'X' inside, another thick black horizontal bar, and a larger square with an 'X' inside. To the left of the main content area is a vertical sidebar containing two right-pointing arrows (→).

The screenshot shows a web application interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with several tabs: 'Logo', 'Manage tasks', 'User activity', 'Edit profile', and 'Logout'. Below the navigation bar, there are two large black rectangular boxes. The main content area contains three vertical panels. The first panel on the left has five rows, each with a black rectangular box and a checked checkbox. The second panel in the middle has five rows, each with a black rectangular box and a checkbox (the first is checked, the others are unchecked). The third panel on the right has two rows, each with a black rectangular box and a checked checkbox. To the right of these panels is a large white arrow pointing right. At the bottom right, there is a button labeled 'Show 5 days' with a dropdown arrow.
